DISCRETION IS THE PERFECTION OF REASON

The more things remain discreet or minimal, the more they are interesting.

At Atelier Luxus, we even try to find mystery in things that seem to have none.

This is why we believe the way people live can be directed by design and architecture advocating for the greatest simplicity.

Just as he does with his architectural research, Bruno Erpicum carried out a perfect exercise of erasure. Designing DOT, the ultimate minimal switch. Because everything starts with a dot.

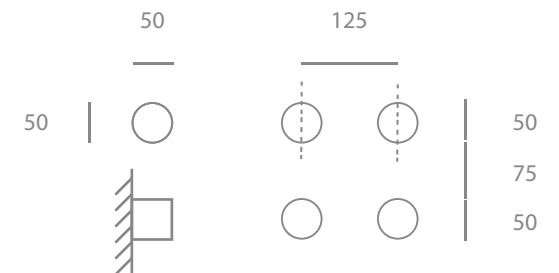

With an unrivalled level precision and integration, DOT is a study of minimalism, having the idea of detail and craft inscribed within its original design concept.

DOTS / SWITCHES

Dots cannot really stay alone.
When we obliterate a surface with dots, they always end to become part of the unity of their environment. The space between the dots being a quiet poetry.

BRUNO ERPICUM

For over three decades, Bruno Erpicum has been making architecture evolve towards more humility, making it one with nature and avoiding competition with the environment. His creations are often radical but always rooted in the earth.
